Additional Information

- Chabad House is a private, non-profit entity and does not receive or share funding with Rutgers or from FAFSA.
 - Chabad House Dorm is classified as "off-campus" by Rutgers University. You must notify Rutgers of your intent to live and dine at Chabad House and update your university registration.
 - All payments must be made directly to Chabad House: Housing fees must be paid by cash, check, or Zelle. Dining plan fees can be paid by cash, check, Zelle, or credit card.
 - Make all checks payable to Chabad House Lubavitch. Send Zelle payments to rabbimendy@chabadnj.org.
- Your room is guaranteed after receipt of the $1000 non-refundable deposit. To take advantage of the Super Saver Discount, the balance must be paid in full by 6/1/26. Open balances after 6/1/26 will revert to the regular rates and remaining balances must be paid by 8/1/26.
- A $600 contribution is required toward the Annual Dinner Gala, which includes one reservation and a half-page ad.
- MicroFridges are available to rent for $180 for the year on a first-come, first-served basis. The fee may be shared with a roommate. Please inquire if interested.
- Our rooms are primarily triple occupancy, with spacious layouts, private bathrooms, and full furnishings (beds, dressers, desks/chairs, and ample closet space).
- Double rooms and suite placements are not guaranteed and depend on enrollment.
- Single rooms are limited and reserved for students with special needs on a priority basis. If a single room is assigned, an additional $7,000 charge applies.
- Placement is based on availability and is first-come, first-served.
- The Security Deposit will be refunded after the resident permanently moves out and after room inspection. Checks are processed at the end of the summer.
- Returning students receive housing discounts for additional years at Chabad House. Details are emailed at the end of the Fall Semester.
